This Inclusive Inquiry Cycle Self-Study and Planning Guide is designed to help you collaborate with your leadership team and follow the steps of the Inclusive Inquiry Cycle as you plan for continuous quality improvement, specifically regarding implementing high quality inclusive classrooms for preschoolers.

First, prepare for the Self-Study, by reviewing the definition of inclusion below, the related program standard(s) you are trying to achieve, and determine the key personnel who should be involved in the self-study and planning process.

Then follow this guide through the steps of the Inclusive Inquiry Cycle in order to better understand your program's status in implementing high quality inclusion and to gain input and ideas on how to move forward in achieving this standard in your program.

Prepare for Self-Study

A) Review the definition of inclusion below:

Inclusion in early childhood programs refers to including children with disabilities in early childhood programs, together with their peers without disabilities; holding high expectations and intentionally promoting participation in all learning and social activities, facilitated by individualized accommodations; and using evidence-based services and supports to foster their development (cognitive, language, communication, physical, behavioral, and social-emotional), friendships with peers, and sense of belonging. This applies to all young children with disabilities, from those with the mildest disabilities, to those with the most significant disabilities.

The vision of inclusion in early childhood programs and recommendations provided in the policy statement build on the principles and definition set forth in the joint position statement from the National Association for the Education of Young Children and the Division of Early Childhood of the Council for Exceptional Children.

B) Next, identify the key personnel and stakeholders who should be part of the process to achieve this high quality standard regarding inclusion. Are they directly involved in these challenges, and/or will they be affected by any decisions? Consider administrators, teachers, paraprofessionals, related services personnel, and social workers. Do not forget to include family members and community partners! Please list members below:

The Inclusive Inquiry Cycle: Self-Study Guide

- C) Analyze our data. Ask what evidence we have regarding our program's status in implementing this quality standard regarding inclusion? What is the district's current Preschool Environments (Indicator 6) Data?
What other information sources do you have about inclusion? Please explain what you and your staff know about your organization meeting this standard or not:

4. Investigate Resources

- A) Brainstorm with your team what additional support services, resources, and information the organization will need to implement high quality inclusive classrooms. Please describe brainstorming outcomes:
- B) Explore Appendix B for resources and identify helpful resources to support your program in implementing high quality inclusion. Please list prioritized resources based on your program’s needs and team input:

5. Develop and Tune Action Plan

- A) As a team, ask given what we know now following the Self-Study and the investigation of resources, what solutions, steps, and resources would be feasible and effective for implementing high quality inclusive classrooms in our organization? Please determine a tentative plan that includes the personnel that should be involved, their roles and tasks, the resources that will be mobilized to support the plan and success, and the timeline for implementation and describe below:

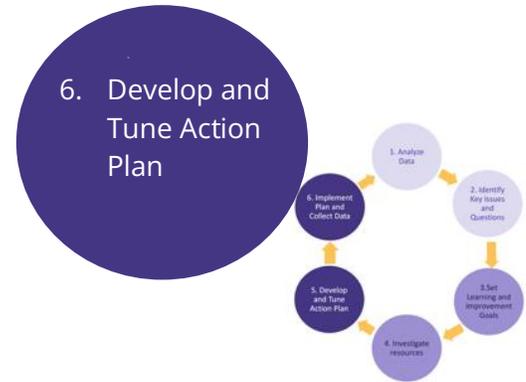

B. Describe overall goal for implementation:
